Successful Week for Frullo, Moves Initiatives Forward

AUSTIN- In what turned out to be a banner week for the first-term member, State Representative John Frullo (R-Lubbock) successfully passed five pieces of legislation through the Texas House of Representatives.

One of the bills moving from the House to the Senate is House Bill 3580. This bill creates a specialty license plate for the spouses of disabled veterans.

"This may seem like a small thing," Frullo said, "but I feel it is important to do anything we can to honor the sacrifices made by our veterans and their families."

Other legislation moving through the process include Alicia's Law, touted as Frullo's signature legislation of the session, as well as several initiatives for the city of Lubbock.

"This has been a great week," Frullo said. "While I have experienced firsthand the patience and determination it takes to move bills through this process, it is rewarding to see the body of the House come together in support of your legislation."
